1.1	Intermediate	ARAB101	Core	Arabic	Introductory Arabic Syntax	Izhār al-Asrār of Imam Muḥammad b. Bīr 'Alī al-Birkiwī (d. 981/1573) has remained one of the most taught compendia of Arabic syntax over the centuries. It is distinguished by its causal approach to Arabic syntax, which is not presented in the usual order of noun, verb, and particle, but rather in the order of syntactic governors, governed words, and types of government. This teaches the student to analyze the Arabic language in terms of cause and effect, which is the objective of the course. The course begins with a study of al-'Awāmil , which is al-Birkiwī's own summary of al-Izhār .	5
1.1	Intermediate	ARAB111	Elective	Arabic	Advanced Arabic Morphology	This course consists of an intensive study of Tasrīf al- Izzī , one of the most well-known and widely studied classical texts of Arabic morphology, written by 'Abd al-Wahhāb b. Ibrāhīm al-Zanjānī (d.655/1257).	5
1.1	Intermediate	ARAB121	Core	Arabic	'Adab	Written by Shaykh Sayyid Abu al-Ḥasan 'Alī al-Nadwī (1377AH/1999CE) sectioned in five volumes/parts detailing the stories of various Prophets and concluding with the Sīrah (biography) of the Prophet Muḥammad (may Allah bless him and grant him peace) in the final book. The author methodically and systematically developed this series of books for students to apply the theories of Arabic grammar while continuously building on vocabulary pertaining to further studies within the Qur'ānic sciences. The goal for the students is to complete the fourth volume. Through the reading and comprehension of the books, students will develop an adab (etiquette) towards Arabic reading and understanding.
1.1	Intermediate	ARAB151	Core	Arabic	Arabic Conversation I	This course aims to develop elementary communication skills in Arabic. By the end of the one-year course, a student should be able to engage in simple conversations about familiar topics (speaking and listening comprehension), and read and write simple sentences about familiar topics (reading comprehension and basic writing skills).	5
1.1	Intermediate	HAD101	Core	Hadith	Introductory Hadith Studies I	As a study of Imam Abū Zakariyyā al-Nawawī's renowned hadith collection on virtues Riyāḍ al-Ṣāliḥīn , the course consists of reading and translating the narrations of the work alongside a brief commentary provided by the instructor. Through this course students are expected not only to understand and memorize hadith of everyday importance, but also to use the prophetic traditions to strengthen their Arabic vocabulary and grammar.	5
1.1	Intermediate	HUM101	Core	Humanities	Western Civilization and Philosophy I	An overview course surveying the history of Western civilization and philosophical trends. Notable civilizations and events will be studied, such as the ancient Greeks and Romans, the rise of Christianity, and the Renaissance, along with the major intellectual figures and movements of the time period, such as the philosophy of Aristotle, Thomas Aquinas, and the impact of Muslim thought on Christian Europe.		none
1.1	Intermediate	LAW101	Core	Islamic Law	Introductory Islamic Law I	The course consists of a detailed study of Imam al-Qudūrī's (d. 428/1036) al-Mukhtaṣar , introducing students to masā'il (legal cases) in all abwāb fiqhīyyah (juristic chapters). Within the Hanafi school, al-Mukhtaṣar is known simply as al-Kitāb (The Book) due to its immense influence and authority. The text is distinguished by the clarity of its language, and by being concise and comprehensive at the same time. A proper study of this text will allow students to recall and retain all of the core legal rulings in the school.	5	Arabic
1.1	Intermediate	QUR101	Core	Qur'ān	Art of Qur'ān Recitation	The course consists of an in-depth study of al-Muqaddamah al-Jazarariyyah of Imam Ibn al-Jazarī (d. 833/1430), which introduces students to the philosophy and norms of tajwīd (rules of recitation of the Qur'ān). All topics of tajwīd are covered at an advanced level. This course also explores the different opinions on certain rules of tajwīd . Imām Ibn al-Jazarī's work is one that is studied worldwide and is considered a must-study text for any serious student of the Qur'ān.	5
1.1	Intermediate	QUR151	Elective	Qur'ān	Qur'ān Recitation Certification: Ḥafṣ through 'Āṣim I	In this course students will recite the entire Qur'ān by memory applying the rules of tajwīd with a high level of precision along with memorizing the famous text of tajwīd written by Imam Ibn al-Jazarī, al-Muqaddamah al-Jazarariyyah . After completion, students will receive a chain of transmission connecting themselves back to the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) as well as a chain of transmission for the text of Ibn al-Jazarī linking the student directly with author himself. 2.1	Intermediate	ARAB211	Core	Arabic	Arabic Rhetoric I	This course surveys the vast field of Arabic rhetoric. Contemporary authors 'Alī al-Jārim and Muṣṭafā Amīn present rhetorical concepts within each of the three branches of Arabic rhetoric, al-ma'ānī , al-bayān , and al-badī' , in a methodical and coherent way. Each chapter begins with examples of rhetorical concepts followed by a detailed explanation ( al-baḥṭh ) and rules ( al-qawā'id ). Thereafter, the text gives an opportunity to practice each concept through an array of different exercises utilizing poetry from different genres as well Qur'ānic verses and hadith.	5
2.1	Intermediate	ARAB221	Elective	Arabic	Advanced Arabic Syntax: Jāmi' al-Durūs al-'Arabiyyah I	This course consists of a study of the advanced Arabic syntax text Jāmi' al-Durūs al-'Arabiyyah of Muṣṭafā Ghalāyīnī. The text is an exhaustive and systematic study of the detailed rules of Arabic grammar and provides, beyond intermediate level, insight into the exceptions to common grammar rules as well as the divergent opinions of the early Arabic grammarians. Students memorize not only the grammar rules in this course, but also apply the rules through extensive exercises utilizing Qur'ānic verses, hadith, and Arabic poetry.	5

2.1	Intermediate	QUR201	Core	Qur'ān	Syntactic Qur'ān Study	This course consists of an in-depth study of the last thirty chapters of the Noble Qur'ān. Students will study the grammatical and rhetorical analysis of these chapters as well as being presented with an introduction to their exegesis. The main text that will be used in this class is I'rāb al-Qur'ān of Muḥyī al-Dīn al-Dirwīsh (d. 1402/1982).	5	QUR 101 & 102
2.1	Intermediate	QUR251	Core	Qur'ān	Themes of the Qur'ān I	The Qur'ānic themes are about guiding human beings to their salvation and success. These themes are scattered throughout the Qur'ān in various sūrahs and finding them can be difficult due to its unique structure. The objective of this course is to introduce those themes in an order that allows for Qur'ānic conversation and engagement. The lectures will provide a holistic and comprehensive worldview of what the Qur'ān has to offer. Each lecture will introduce several ayāt from the Qur'ān discussing that theme and how those passages provide vivid imagery, powerful parables, and arguments establishing the tenants of Islam and the inimitability of the Qur'ān. 2.2	Intermediate	LAW202	Core	Islamic Law	Intermediate Islamic Law I	This course aims to introduce the student to Islamic legal reasoning by providing transmitted and analytical evidence for the legal opinions of the Hanafi school. One of three texts are studied as per instructor's choice: Al-Ikhtiyār by Abd Allāh b. Mahmud al-Mawṣilī (d. 683/1284). The author's own commentary on his legal compendium al-Mukhtār , which is considered one of the foundational texts of the Hanafi school. Al-Ikhtiyār , which is distinguished by its comprehensive language, is also a work of tarjīh (legal preference) in that it identifies the opinions according to which fatwas are issued. Sharḥ al-Wiqāyah by 'Ubayd Allāh b. Mas'ūd (d. 747/1346). The author comments on his grandfather's ( Tāj al-Sharī'ah ) al-Wiqāyah . Each legal issue and its ruling are coupled with proof from either primary sources of Islamic law or deduced maxims. The author also weighs multiple opinions within the school and offers his preferences. Sharḥ al-Wiqāyah is arguably the best stepping stone to al-Marghinānī's al-Hidāyah at the advanced level. Fath Bāb al-'Ināyah , also known popularly as Sharḥ al-Nuqāyah , is the masterful commentary of Mullā 'Alī b. Sulṭān Muḥammad al-Qārī (d. 1014/1605) on Sadr al-Sharī'ah 'Ubayd Allāh b. Mas'ūd al-Maḥbūbī's legal text al-Nuqāyah . Al-Qārī's work is distinguished by its masterful amalgam of legal discussions from the various renowned commentaries on Imam al-Marghinānī's al-Hidāyah , including Ibn al-Humām's Fath al-Qadīr and al-Zayla'ī's Naṣb al-Rāyah .	5	LAW102

2.2	Intermediate	LAW241	Core	Islamic Law	Intermediate Islamic Legal Methodology I	The course consists of an intensive study of 'Alā al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Alī al-Ḥiṣnī al-Ḥaskafī's (d.1088/1677) Ifādat al-Anwār which is a commentary on the influential text of Islamic jurisprudence al-Manār of Ḥafīz al-Dīn Abū l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh b. Aḥmad al-Nasafī (d. 710/1310). The text and the commentary cover all the major topics of Islamic legal methodology according to the Hanafi school. Ḥaskafī's commentary is distinguished by being one of the most concise commentaries on al-Manār and summarizes the insights of previous commentaries. The aim of the course is to teach students concepts and principles of Islamic legal methodology in detail with examples to enable them to do further research in the field. Students are recommended to use editions that have Ibn 'Ābidīn's gloss Nasamāt al-Ashār and get a copy of Ibn Malak's Sharḥ al-Manār for reference. This course is offered in three semesters in the intermediate program or two semesters in the advanced program.	5	LAW231

2.2	Intermediate	QUR202	Core	Qur'ān	Introductory Qur'ān Commentary	In this course students will thoroughly study the contemporary commentary on the Noble Qur'ān Ṣafwat al-Tafāsīr by Muḥammad 'Alī al-Ṣabūnī. In his work, the author transmits information from influential texts of exegesis such as al-Kashshāf , Tafsīr Ibn Kathīr , and others, succinctly discussing the necessary details of each verse of the Noble Qur'ān and the connection between the verses. These details provide the students the knowledge they need to understand each verse. Furthermore, the author also offers important notes about the rhetorical devices in the verses and explores subtleties that can be extracted from the wording of the Noble Qur'ān. The course aims to introduce the students to the breadth and depth of the scholarship on the Noble Qur'ān and to allow the student to have a greater appreciation for the language of the Noble Qur'ān.	5	QUR201

3.1	Intermediate	LAW301	Core	Islamic Law	Intermediate Islamic Law III	This course aims to introduce the student to Islamic legal reasoning by providing transmitted and analytical evidence for the legal opinions of the Hanafi school. One of three texts are studied as per instructor's choice: Al-Ikhtiyār by Abd Allāh b. Mahmud al-Mawṣilī (d. 683/1284). The author's own commentary on his legal compendium al-Mukhtār, which is considered one of the foundational texts of the Hanafi school. Al-Ikhtiyār, which is distinguished by its comprehensive language, is also a work of tarjīh (legal preference) in that it identifies the opinions according to which fatwas are issued. Sharḥ al-Wiqāyah by 'Ubayd Allāh b. Mas'ūd (d. 747/1346). The author comments on his grandfather's (Tāj al-Sharī'ah) al-Wiqāyah. Each legal issue and its ruling are coupled with proof from either primary sources of Islamic law or deduced maxims. The author also weighs multiple opinions within the school and offers his preferences. Sharḥ al-Wiqāyah is arguably the best stepping stone to al-Marghinānī's al-Hidāyah at the advanced level. Faḥ Bāb al-'Ināyah, also known popularly as Sharḥ al-Nuqāyah, is the masterful commentary of Mullā 'Alī b. Sulṭān Muḥammad al-Qārī (d. 1014/1605) on Ṣadr al-Sharī'ah 'Ubayd Allāh b. Mas'ūd al-Maḥbūbī's legal text al-Nuqāyah. Al-Qārī's work is distinguished by its masterful amalgam of legal discussions from the various renowned commentaries on Imam al-Marghinānī's al-Hidāyah, including Ibn al-Humām's Faḥ al-Qadīr and al-Zayla'ī's Naṣb al-Rāyah.	5	LAW241, LAW202
3.1	Intermediate	LAW331	Core	Islamic Law	Intermediate Islamic Legal Methodology II	The course consists of an intensive study of 'Alā al-Dīn Muḥammad b. 'Alī al-Ḥiṣnī al-Ḥaṣkafī's (d.1088/1677) Ifāḍat al-Anwār which is a commentary on the influential text of Islamic jurisprudence al-Manār of Ḥafīz al-Dīn Abū l-Barakāt 'Abd Allāh b. Aḥmad al-Nasafī (d. 710/1310). The text and the commentary cover all the major topics of Islamic legal methodology according to the Hanafi school. Ḥaṣkafī's commentary is distinguished by being one of the most concise commentaries on al-Manār and summarizes the insights of previous commentaries. The aim of the course is to teach students concepts and principles of Islamic legal methodology in detail with examples to enable them to do further research in the field. Students are recommended to use editions that have Ibn 'Ābidīn's gloss Nasamāt al-Aṣḥār and get a copy of Ibn Malak's Sharḥ al-Manār for reference. This course is offered in three semesters in the intermediate program or two semesters in the advanced program.	5	LAW241, LAW201

3.2	Intermediate	HAD302	Core	Hadith	Intermediate Hadith Critical Methodology	This course critically analyzes the intermediate-level hadith sciences text Nuzhat al-Nazar of Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani (d. 852/1449), expanding the study of the hadith sciences beyond terminology and into subfields such as narrator criticism ( jarh wa ta'dil ), prosopography ( rijal ), and the ethics of hadith reception and transmission. Students will be expected to analyze the text critically using glosses and commentaries written by the author's own students Qasim b. Qutlubgha (d. 879/1474) and al-Kamal Ibn Abi Sharif (d. 906/1501). 'Abd al-Hayy al-Laknawi's (d. 1305/1886) work on narrator criticism ( al-jarh wa al-ta'dil ) entitled al-Raf' wa al-Takmil is thereafter studied with the critical notes of 'Abd al-Fattah Abu Ghuddah. Students will additionally be taught to explore and access various genres of hadith works, especially the glossaries, indexes, dictionaries, and catalogs unique to the field as an introduction into takhrir al-hadith wa dirasat al-asanid .	5	HAD301

3.2	Intermediate	QUR301	Core	Qur'ān	Introduction to Qur'anic Sciences	This course utilizes Mukhtasar al-Itqan by Ṣalāḥ al-Dīn Arqahdān as the primary text. It is an abridgment of Jalāl al-Dīn al-Suyūṭī's (d. 911/1505) integral text al-Itqan fi 'ulūm al-Qur'ān . The text will be used as a springboard for further discussions regarding the core terms and concepts found in Qur'anic Sciences. There will be additional readings from the original Itqan , al-Zarkashī's (d. 794/1392) al-Burhān, and al-Zurqānī's (1367/1948) Manāhil al-irtān to see how these concepts were developed and applied. This course provides a seamless segue to Shāh Waliullāh's (d. 1175/1762) al-Fawz al-Kabir , a book that provides unique ideas on how to read the Qur'ān.	5	QUR202

3.2	Intermediate	QUR302	Core	Qur'ān	Principles of Qur'ān Commentary	This course comprises a thorough study of Shāh Walī Allāh's (d. 1175/1762) al-Fawz al-Kabīr fī Uṣūl al-Tafsīr . The text, which was originally written in Persian, consists of five chapters. Each chapter elucidates principles and precepts needed to understand the science of Tafsīr (Qur'ānic exegesis) and Uṣūl al-Tafsīr (Qur'ānic hermeneutics). The objectives of the course include introducing the student to the circumstances of revelation ( asbāb al-nuzūl ), abrogating and abrogated verses ( al-nāsiḥ wa l-manṣūkh ) and the unusual words and phrases of the Noble Qur'ān ( gharā'ib al-Qur'ān ). Though the text is brief, it is considered one of the best compilations prepared on the subject due to its scope which concisely elucidates concepts required to comprehend the subtleties of Tafsīr .	5	QUR301
3.2	Intermediate	THEO302	Core	Theology	Introduction to Logic and Dialectic	The course begins with an intensive study of Īsāghūjī of Athīr al-Dīn al-Abharī (d. 663/1265), an introductory text of logic in Arabic. This is followed by studying a modern work of logic in English. Finally students study a work in Munāẓarah , dialectic in Arabic.		THEO101, THEO102, THEO301 or the instructor's approval
3.3	Intermediate	LAW342	Core	Islamic Law	Islamic Inheritance Law	The course covers Islamic laws of inheritance using Sirāj al-Dīn Muhammad ibn Muhammad ibn 'Abd al-Rashīd's (d. ~600/1204) famous text, al-Sirājī fī al-Mirāth , also known as al-Sirājīyyah . Although there is little difference amongst the schools of fiqh in laws of inheritance, al-Sirājīyyah is written from a Hanafī perspective. Classically, books of inheritance are organized based on shares or recipients; al-Sirājīyyah follows the latter.	4
